

Forecast For East Midlands
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Saturday 25 Dec 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:

Christmas Day generally cloudy, rain edging northeast. Cold wind.

Today:

A cold, generally cloudy and damp start to Christmas Day morning with some patchy light rain and drizzle across more southwestern areas. Turning mainly dry by afternoon with some brightness, and coastal areas may have sunshine. Rather strong winds. Maximum temperature 5 deg C (41 deg F).

Tonight:

Cloudy night with rain arriving from the south around midnight, and this may fall as snow over Derbyshire for a time. Becoming quite wet later in the night. Brisk winds. Minimum temperature 1 deg C (34 deg F).

Sunday:

Boxing Day cloudy with morning rain dying out and turning showery. Milder air arriving with misty conditions developing and hills becoming shrouded in fog. Lighter winds. Maximum temperature 7 deg C (45 deg F).

Outlook for Monday to Wednesday:

Monday rather cloudy and mainly dry with rain likely for Tuesday and temperatures near normal. Wednesday perhaps milder as wet and windy weather probably spreads across the region.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.